Some dealers are of the opicion that 34c is the bottom price for this market, and if that price will cause a liberal movement, values will have a chance of improving. The great effort is to reduce stocks at the South and a good export outlet will have 2 very beneficial effect. The low price of seed is a fortunate feature of the industry this season, as it enables crushers to meet the market for oil. The buying in New York has been spirited during the week, and to day some de-lers found themselves unable to fill orders for sput delivery of round lo's. Holders had one price of 34½c and buyers were unable to get it shaded. The New Orleans market is still quoted nominally at 34c and Memphis at 32ca3 ½c. The receipts of cotton-seed oil at New York since last writing were 1725 bbls.
